FOUNDATIONS JOURNAL

Do you have a message or achievement you’d like to share with our global data management community? Did you know your organization can be in Foundations, the Journal of the Professional Petroleum Data Management Association? There are opportunities for partner organizations to write articles for Foundations. Send your ideas to foundations@ppdm.org and we can work together to spread the word of your hard work.

CERTIFICATION

Congratulations to the newest CPDAs! For those who may not yet know, the Certified Petroleum Data Analyst (CPDA) exam has been constructed upon the competencies expected of a petroleum data analyst with 3-5 years of combined education and experience. The exam is built on eight competency areas: Data Governance, Data Analysis, Data Quality Management, Data Security, Spatial Data, E&P Life-Cycle Processes, Master Data Management, and Communication. Certification as a Petroleum Data Analyst demonstrates to employers, clients and colleagues an established level of expertise in the petroleum data management domain, and a unique skill set to bring success to data management projects. The deadline to apply for the November 8 exam is September 27, 2017, and you can learn more at www.ppdm.org/certification.

PERTH DATA MANAGEMENT WORKSHOP

The Perth Data Management Workshop has recently added an exciting field trip to the Perth Core Library as a part of the activities available with the Workshop. The agenda is now available, this is an event you won’t want to miss! www.ppdm.org/perthdmw17.
