Stephen Rogers (Chevron) & Doris Ross (Woodside) will present a talk entitled

“The Importance Of Partnering in Digital Transformation”

Abstract: Success of our industry's digital transformation hinges on instant access to trusted data! As custodians, we have an important role to play in this journey as we preside over changes to our petrotechnical digital landscape.

A paradigm shift in subsurface data management is required. Leaning on disruptive technologies of Cloud and Machine Learning, our companies must find new ways of working together and challenge traditional barriers and legacy workflows.

This talk seeks to highlight some of the challenges we will face as a community, including how our own roles might translate, and hopefully to promote questions and discussion. Stephen (Chevron) and Doris (WEL) will be speaking to our journey together as JVP, industry colleagues and technology early adopters.
